SINGAPORE STANDARD
SPECIFICATION FOR VEGETABLE COOKING OIL

FOREWORD

This Singapore Standard was drawn up by the Technical Committee for Edible Fats and Oils under the direction of the Food Standards Committee.

It is a revision of SS 172 : 1977 - 'Specification for vegetable cooking oil'. The revision was necessary to bring the standard in line with international requirements and current industry practices.

In preparing this standard reference was made to the following overseas standards:

1. British Standard BS 7207 : 1990 - Specification for crude vegetable fats
2. Malaysia Standard MS 682 : 1980 - Specification for cooking oils
3. South Africa Standard CKS 3 : 1966 - Specification for edible oils (cooking and salad)
4. AOCS Official Methods and Recommended Practices, Additions and Revisions through 1991 and Addendum January 1992, Vols I and II by American Oil Chemists' Society Incorporated

Acknowledgement is made for the use of information from the above references

NOTE

1. Singapore Standards are subject to periodical review to keep abreast of technological changes and new technical developments. The revisions of Singapore Standards are announced through the issue of either amendment slips or revised editions.
2. Compliance with a Singapore Standard does not exempt users from legal obligations.

SS 172 : 1995

1. SCOPE

This standard applies to blended vegetable oil for edible purposes.
